

UK Lichen Planus

A UK based group promoting the wellbeing of women and men who are living with Lichen Planus.

Lichen Planus is thought to be an auto-immune disease which can affect the skin, oral or genital mucosa and more.

UK Lichen Planus brings those living with LP together to share information and provide mutual support

We also encourage members to take an active role in their treatment and we welcome women and men with all forms of lichen planus

So if you are one of the 1 – 2 % of the UK population living with LP, join us to share your experiences, ideas and tips in a safe and respectful environment

we understand ~ we empathise ~ we care
